Secluded seductive Samoa

Seabreeze Resort is one Samoa's most awarded properties. But as well-deserved accolades continues to flow, the owners and staff just seem to go about their business.

Satisfied with the praise, but much more concerned about their real reward – providing a memorable experience for the couples that choose to stay there. The secluded location on the south coast of Upolu is a reflection of what makes Seabreeze Resort so special. If it weren't for its modest sign, you wouldn't even know it was there. Which is why this adults-only resort is perfect for honeymooners and couples. Privacy. Seclusion. Laid back luxury. Not a place that chases the limelight, rather a sanctuary where couples can connect far from the hustle and bustle of home.

Tropical villas with flow

The resort's various accommodation options are carefully dotted around the edge of the bay. Each villa has been designed with outdoor living in mind. Each one has ocean, lagoon and pool views with the added comfort of individual thatched pavilions or courtyards. Each room has also been structured with the tropics in mind, encouraging natural ventilation from the trade winds. Of course air-conditioning is on-tap should you need it! While most couples will spend a lot of their time soaking up the sun, poolside or on the beach, the villas provide a haven of comfort and peace.

A new lagoon view

The newest room addition is an elevated lagoon pool villa that captures expansive sea views. (On a clear day you can see the wispy outline of American Samoa floating in the distance.) Entry is via a private gated courtyard. A spa pool with outdoor hot water shower awaits. The courtyard connects with the bedroom via French doors, creating a haven of tropical living.

The hardest decision of your day will be deciding whether to relax and enjoy the view, laze on your outdoor lounge or have fun in your bubbling spa pool. And why not! This is a place to live the dream (at least for a few days).

Dining delights

When it comes to cuisine, Seabreeze also delivers. Their award-winning waterfront restaurant is considered one of Samoa's finest. Enjoying breakfast in the warm morning sun is a great way to ease into the day. And a moonlit three-course meal is the perfect end. It's no wonder visitors staying in other resorts often make a special trip to eat there.

Natural warmth

Location, accommodation and food aside, the staff add an X-factor that keeps couples coming back. The resort invests a lot of time and effort into training, but at the same time staff are encouraged to be themselves.

Welcoming visitors with respect and warm Samoan hospitality. Professional and personal at the same time. Just like Seabreeze itself.

Saletoga Fiafia a night of fun

Visitors looking for some exciting live entertainment should mark down Wednesday at Saletoga Sands Resort in their travel diary.

Each Wednesday the resort hosts their Fiafia Night – where guests and other visitors can enjoy traditional cultural entertainment from local performers. This includes song and dance routines, the spectacular fire dance, and a yummy buffet dinner. Don't miss it!

Coconuts Beach Club's new luxury spa

Coconuts Beach Club, Samoa, has a newly designed spa offering indulgent treatments in luxurious suites. Open to locals as well as resort guests, the spa's services include manicures and pedicures, body scrubs, facials, couples' massage and granite outdoor soaking tubs. The spa's design reflects the tropical beauty of the resort, with colours that capture the serenity of the ocean.

The spa is the final restoration project by owner Tautaimatapalapala and his close friend and architect Robert Ross. After surviving the damage of the tsunami of 2009 and the cyclone of 2012, Coconuts was redesigned and expanded by the pair. Coconuts Beach Club located on the beach in the village of Manino, is the only resort in Samoa that features over-the-water fales. The resort employs over 100 local Samoans from the surrounding villages, and offers a gourmet restaurant, lush grounds, beachfront access, and Samoan cultural celebrations.

Sinalei plants for a greener planet

Sinalei Reef Resort and Spa have committed themselves to making the earth healthier and greener, by becoming involved in the Young Pacific Leaders' (YPL) 2019 carbon offsetting drive. The initiative seeks to neutralise the CO2 gases emitted by the travel of all delegates who attended the YPL 2019 conference, raise the profile of environmental challenges affecting Samoa – and the world at large – and inspire support for the nation's ambitious objective to plant two million trees by 2020.

Sinalei Marketing and Business Development Manager, Nelson Annandale, said the resort sent a group of staff and guests to Vailima National Reserve to participate in the tree-planting drive. "In the past we've donated money to the drive to assist in buying trees," he said. "This year we volunteered both staff and guests to help with the planting and I'm proud to say our group planted 200 trees." Well done Sinalei, keep up the good work!

There is a magical place in the heart of the South Pacific... called Samoa.
